CONQUERS FRENCH IN DECIDING MATCH

MORNING PLAY IS EVEN

Gene First Player to Win Both Crowns in Single

In the particular match Sarazen's shot to the pin was his greatest asset, The wind bothered him a lot to-day and in the afternoon Gene found it necessary to change to shorter clubs to baffle the breeze. Boreas had quite a delightful time of it all the way through. But nevertheless Sarazen did better because of the change.

In the morning round it was difficult to say just where the honors were likely to rest. Sarazen won the second when his opponent got over the green into a trap, and at the flifth the national champion became 2 up. Then French started some blistering work with his putter, holding a twenty footer at the next for a 3. On the eighth French sarted some blistering work with his putter, holding a twenty footer at the next for a 3. On the eighth French sarted sixth and a thirty footer at the next for a 3. On the eighth French sarted a 4. On the eighth French sarted sarted

The worst "break" of the match was absorbed by French at the ninth, where, with a fine long iron to this 462 yard hole, his ball hit the pin and caromed back into the hunkers. Had French's shot hit the wooden part of the flag standard the ball probably would have stopped a couple of feet from the cup or even less. The Oakmont flag pins are set in iron holders, and it was against this part that the sphere came into collision.
